

Module:

"The American Indian & Education"

From the Publisher:

American Indian Studies essential topics, Native Worldview and Philosophy, and Traditional Teaching Methodologies are all important components in understanding the Native Experience. For the first time, these three crucial elements are brought together in a single text for educators to use in their curriculum planning as well as for the general public in their understanding of Indigenous People. Through the views of Indian scholars, researchers, and educators, a comprehensive look at the Native American Experience evolves.

❖ Education & the American Indian – Indigenous Knowledge – Traditional Methodologies

- "A Curriculum Culture Shift: Government and Mission Schools" pp. 16-21
- "The Second Culture of Curriculum" pp. 21-25
- "Another Curriculum Culture Shift: Taking AIM at Decolonization and Self-Determination" pp. 25-41
- "Worldview Connection to Indigenous Knowledge" pp. 85- 91
- "Seven Sacred Teachings and Traditional Code of Ethics" pp. 93-100
- "A Traditional Code of Ethics" pp. 100-104
- "The Essence of Traditional Knowledge and Teaching" pp. 104-116
- "Native Pedagogy: A Seminal Examination" pp. 116-129
- "An Indigenous Epistemology" pp. 129-135
- "Native Pedagogy and Constructivism" pp. 135-143
- "A Perspective of Immanence" pp. 143-146
- "The Medicine Wheel: A Traditional Approach" pp. 146-153
- "Culturally Relevant Pedagogy" pp. 153-158
- "An Author's Perspective" pp. 158-162
- "A Different View: Field Dependence" pp. 162-166
- "Walking in Two Worlds" pp. 166-172
- "Culturally Responsive Pedagogy" pp. 172-177
- "Pedagogy with a Touch of Humanism" pp. 177-181
- "Culturally Based Curriculum and Pedagogy" pp. 181-184
- "Blending Native Ideology and Methodology" pp. 184-188
- "Structuring the Learning Environment: Establishing Indian Country" pp. 190-191
- "The Seven Sacred Teachings and the Traditional Code of Ethics" pp. 191-196
- "Creating a Classroom Environment: Best Practices" pp. 196-203
- "Element 1: A Native Worldview and Perspective" pp. 206-208
- "Element 2: Holistic, Interdisciplinary Approach" pp. 208-211
- "Element 8: Indigenousness and Traditional Knowledge" pp. 239-251
- "Element 8: Relevant Knowledge and Wisdom are Revered" pp. 350-364
- "Culturally Appropriate Pedagogy: Teaching to Tradition" pp. 383-386
- "A General Observation of Traditional Methods" pp. 386-399
- "Element 1: The Elder-Apprentice Relationship" pp. 399-404
- "Element 2: The Cognitive Apprentice" pp. 404-408
- "Element 3: Joint Productive Activity" pp. 408-419
- "Element 4: The Talking Circle" pp. 419-425
- "Element 5: Oral Tradition and Storytelling" pp. 425-430
- "Element 6: Content Exploration" pp. 430-443
- "Element 7: Experiential Learning" pp. 443-454
- "Element 8: Home-Community-Cultural Connection" pp. 454-463
- "Element 9: A Trusting, Egalitarian, Humanistic Learning Environment" pp. 463-474
- "Element 10: Time Generousness and Repetition" pp. 474-481

Available in e-format.

